Summer School

Art and Design

2016-2017

Join us in July at the University of Gloucestershire's well-established and successful School of Art and Design for the opportunity to develop your creative skills, improve your English, and gain a unique insight into studying in the UK.

Experience art and design at a leading UK university

INTO University of Gloucestershire is delighted to offer an exclusive three-week Art and Design Summer School for international students. With great opportunities for hands-on learning and a busy social programme, the Summer School is ideal if you are interested in art and design, and keen to develop your creative skills while also improving your English.

WHAT DOES THE SUMMER SCHOOL INCLUDE?

- Introductions to photography, animation and design.
- Special focus on creative thinking, creative drawing, visual storytelling and typography.
- English language skills development in speaking, listening, reading and writing.
- Lessons on grammar, vocabulary and situational language.

EXCITING ADDITIONAL SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

- Full-day weekend excursions to places of cultural interest, including London, Oxford and Bath.
- Wednesday afternoon visits to nearby art galleries, such as The Wilson gallery in Cheltenham.
- All excursions included in the tuition fee.

ASSESSMENT AND OUTCOME

During the course, you will develop an art portfolio and undertake an English language progress test to measure your improvement. You will also receive an end-of-course report and attendance certificate, authorised by INTO University of Gloucestershire.

"I came to INTO to acquire some creative skills and build up my English. The lessons are very creative, and I enjoy working with my friends to come up with cool ideas."
